INSTITUTIONAL RESEARCH AND ASSESSMENT

I am pleased to provide you with the Lebanese American University (LAU) Fact Book 2016-2017, which portrays in facts and figures the academic year 2016-2017.

The Fact Book presents a comprehensive picture of LAU through various lenses. It serves as a data resource capturing historical and statistical information about the institution. The information compiled in the Fact Book on programs, academic services, students, faculty, staff, facilities and finances is used in supporting decision-making, planning, policy formulation, accreditation and institutional effectiveness efforts.

A printed copy is available upon request, and an online version is available for download in Adobe Portable Document Format (pdf) <http://dira.lau.edu.lb/fact-book/>

LAU is a dynamic institution that is changing continuously. To access the current up-to-date information about the institutions make use of the online resources by visiting our website <http://dira.lau.edu.lb/>.

The preparation of the Fact Book involves many members of the University community and I am very grateful for the assistance provided. Each year, the Fact Book incorporates new information as requested by members of the University community. We welcome comments and suggestions for the continued enhancement of the Fact Book. Please address all comments and inquiries regarding the Fact Book 2016-2017 to Dr. Diane Nauffal, Executive Director of the Department of Institutional Research and Assessment, at extension 1232 or by e-mail at diane.nauffal@lau.edu.lb.

GENERAL INFORMATION

ABOUT THE INSTITUTION

HISTORY AND LOCATION

The Lebanese American University (LAU), a leading private higher education institution in Lebanon, operates under a charter from the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York. LAU is accredited by the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC).

LAU is a nonsectarian institution guided by a deeply rooted sense of shared ethical values. The university began as a women's college in 1924, with roots extending back to 1835, when the Ottoman Empire's first school for girls was founded. LAU expanded over the decades, catering to the growing educational needs of Lebanon, the Middle East and around the world. Today LAU boasts seven schools, along with 18 centers and institutes. Dynamic and distinguished faculty members research and teach in a wide range of academic disciplines.

LAU's two main campuses are located on leafy hillsides by the Mediterranean Sea, around 35 kilometers apart, putting LAU within easy reach of all areas of Lebanon. The Byblos and Beirut campuses offer similarly structured programs in the arts, sciences and business. Programs in nursing and medicine, as well as junior and senior-year courses in engineering and pharmacy, are offered exclusively in Byblos.

LAU still continues to expand today. With the establishment of its New York Headquarters and Academic Center and a new executive center in Beirut Central District, LAU continues its journey of perpetual improvement and progression.

ACCREDITATION

LAU was accredited by the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (CIHE-NEASC) in November 2009. In 2014 LAU underwent a comprehensive evaluation and was re-accredited for a ten-year period.

A photograph of a computer lab. In the foreground, a student with long dark hair is seen from behind, sitting at a desk with a computer. The desk has a monitor displaying a website, a keyboard, and some papers. In the middle ground, a woman with long brown hair, wearing a red cardigan over a floral top, stands and speaks into a microphone. She is holding a small object in her other hand. Several other students are seated at desks in the background, some looking at their computers. The room has large windows on the right side, letting in bright light. A sign on the wall in the background reads "PRINTER FOR ROW B&C". A projector is mounted on the ceiling.
